I would like to give a HUGE #shoutout to @machi_filotimo_cancer_project!

You have been a great source of comfort, knowledge, education and support to people diagnosed with cancer.

Your own experience has helped you create a haven for those in distress, experiencing confusion and who have no idea where to start or how to navigate this life altering diagnosis.

Your determination to raise awareness, to educate and raise funds for those in need is more than just admirable. It's astonishing.

Your love and devotion to this cause leaves me in awe and I am proud to be associated with the Machi Filotimo Cancer Project.

We all fail, we all make mistakes, we all get lost somewhere along the journey of life.

So instead of judgement and assumptions, as we never really know what is happening to another person, you are a source of comfort.

It is very reassuring to know that despite all life throws at us there are still people like you, that reach out, lend a helping hand and are passionate and dedicated to serve. To do all they can to help save lives.

Thank you Filotimo for all you do and all you are and have been to all of us, your partners and every person out there in need of love, support and guidance.

To many more💕❤️

Your proud partner

Michelle
